

REGULATION OF ICT BUSINESS IN RUSSIA AND GLOBALLY

Course Workload		Assessment form (examination/ graded test/ ungraded test)
ECTS	Hours
3	108	Oral test

Course description

The course considers fundamentals of business law in the ICT sector. There are studied processes of production, dissemination and use of information based on information technologies as objects of regulation. The features of legal basis for the information society development are studied, as well as the regulation of activity in the ICT sector in Russia and Globally.

Course structure:

1. FUNDAMENTALS OF BUSINESS LAW IN THE ICT SECTOR

- 1.1. Processes of production, dissemination and use of information based on information technologies as objects of regulation.
- 1.2. Legal basis for the development of the information society.
- 1.3. The use of ICT in the socio-economic sphere of Russia and of Globally.
- 1.4. ICT as an area of intersectoral management. Creation of a flexible ICT security system.

2. REGULATION OF ACTIVITY IN ICT SECTOR

- 2.1. Features of certain types of entrepreneurial activity in the ICT sector.
- 2.2. Legal support of activities in the ICT sector of Russia and of Globally.
- 2.3. Information as an object of law. Intellectual property and information production.