

Intercultural Communication

Date	Time	Place/Lecturer	Course description
September 7 – 11 September 14 - 17	11:00-14:00 (Moscow time)	Online (ZOOM) / Prof. Irina Shmeleva	The main goal of this course is to expose international students of ITMO University, specializing in different fields of study with the problems intercultural communication in the field of business-like cooperation and interpersonal communication within the different cultures. The main goal of the special course and seminar is to achieve cross-cultural competence in all dealings with multicultural colleagues and clients. Course objectives include detailed cross-cultural understanding that comes to cross-cultural competence in: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • knowledge, awareness and sensitivity in intercultural communication; • ability to use and interpret case studies from particular cultures taking in the account the specific regional and country character; • capacity to use cross-cultural interpretation of behavior and communication in everyday life and management; Intercultural communication skills in the new cultural context. The study of intercultural communication assumes putting the problems in the context of the global cooperation and the role of Russian university in this process.

Project Management

Date	Time	Place/Lecturer	Course description
October 19 October 26 November 2 November 9 November 16 November 23	11:00-12:30 (Moscow time)	Online (ZOOM) / Prof. Igor Kuprienko	The main goal of the course is to form necessary amount of basic and applied knowledge and practical skills required for successful project management. Topics include how to manage teams, schedules, risks, and resources in order to produce a desired outcome. Case studies are incorporated into the course, allowing students to apply in practice knowledge and skills associated with selecting, managing, organizing, planning, negotiating, budgeting, scheduling, controlling, and terminating a project. The focus of this course is to help the student understand an effective project management approach by learning the roles, responsibilities, and activities of a project manager in planning, monitoring, controlling, and terminating projects. Students will study project planning and organization, project life cycles, project management strategies, and how to promote excellence in project management practices. This course reviews the fundamental principles of project selection methods, assessment of company resources, prioritizing projects, and program management principles for managing a portfolio of projects.
October 22 October 29 November 5 November 12 November 19 November 26	11:00-14:00 (Moscow time)	Online (ZOOM) / Prof. Igor Kuprienko	The main goal of the course is to form necessary amount of basic and applied knowledge and practical skills required for successful project management. Topics include how to manage teams, schedules, risks, and resources in order to produce a desired outcome. Case studies are incorporated into the course, allowing students to apply in practice knowledge and skills associated with selecting, managing, organizing, planning, negotiating, budgeting, scheduling, controlling, and terminating a project. The focus of this course is to help the student understand an effective project management approach by learning the roles, responsibilities, and activities of a project manager in planning, monitoring, controlling, and terminating projects. Students will study project planning and organization, project life cycles, project management strategies, and how to promote excellence in project management practices. This course reviews the fundamental principles of project selection methods, assessment of company resources, prioritizing projects, and program management principles for managing a portfolio of projects.

Innovation Systems: Russian Federation Development

Date	Time	Place/Lecturer	Course description
September 29 October 2 October 6 October 9 October 13 October 20	11:00-14:00 (Moscow time)	Online (ZOOM) / Prof. Svetlana Evseeva	The main goal of this course is to acquaint students with the theory of innovation systems and provide them with practical skills in evolvement into the Russian innovation system business based on innovations and new technologies. The objectives of the course are to provide students with the following professional skills and competences: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the ability to evaluate the macroeconomic environment influence on the business and local authorities; • the ability to analyze innovative potential of a country and to implement instruments of the innovative development; • skills of search and selection mechanism to support the innovation activities of the organization in the Russian Federation.
October 1 October 8 October 15	14:00-17:00 (Moscow time)		